UNESCO and Inclusive Education:

UNESCO actively participated in shaping the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, which was adopted by the UN General Assembly in 2015. Sustainable Development Goal 4 "Ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all" is an overarching goal for all countries striving to make quality education accessible to all. As stated in the Berlin Declaration on Education for Sustainable Development: "We are confident that education is a powerful enabler of positive change of mindsets and worldviews and that it can support the integration of all dimensions of sustainable development." Therefore, it is important to develop education and make it inclusive, as this leads to the development of all aspects of sustainable development.

In addition, the roadmap for implementing the Global Action Programme on Education for Sustainable Development 2030 is in place and is being implemented to support the efforts of all countries to teach children and adults the skills, values and attitudes that are necessary to build a more open, fair, peaceful and sustainable world.

Of particular note is also the UNESCO Development Program for 2022-2025 (41 C/5 of 9 June 2021), where the first achievable objective is to ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote learning opportunities for all, to be achieved through the full cooperation of relevant stakeholders, institutional and human capital strengthening, STEAM education, and also promoting the development of science, technology and innovation.
